

Frequently asked questions – bachelor's thesis at the Chair of Strategic Management and Leadership

1. Do all applicants get assigned a topic?

No, because the number of applicants may exceed the number of topics available.

2. What criteria are used to assign the topics?

The topics are assigned based on academic performance (current grade and completed courses at our chair) and the quality of the letter of motivation.

3. When can I start applying for a topic?

The respective application deadlines are posted on our chair's website, please refrain from applications outside of the application periods.

4. How long does it take to complete the bachelor's thesis?

The total processing time is 15 weeks from the start date: 6 weeks for preparing the exposé and 9 weeks for writing the bachelor's thesis.

5. In which research areas does the chair offer topics?

Please have a look at the research fields on our website, as well as the individual research areas of the research associates.

6. Can I suggest topics myself?

No.

7. Does the chair publish a list of topics that have already been covered?

No.

8. Is it possible to write the thesis in collaboration with a company?

A practical collaboration for the bachelor's thesis is possible, but only for topics that were assigned through the standard allocation process. If a student is assigned a topic that is suitable for a practical collaboration, the student may discuss the possibility of such a collaboration individually with their respective advisor.

9. Are there any bachelor's thesis topics in German?

No, the chair only supervises bachelor's theses written in English.
